

Science Fiction

- Usually set in the near or distant future, in the real world or a world with similar rules
- Often has space ships, aliens, robots, time travel, or gadgets based on what could be possible with science or future discoveries
- Unreal things exist or happen because of science, not magic
- Stories that ask "what if" or "what could be"